

CHRISTMAS ANTICIPATION

Born in the cold darkness of tyrannical times, we didn't know who you were.

Sweet baby Jesus, helpless and small,
we didn't know who you were.

The Word made flesh, Emmanuel, and
we didn't know who you were.

Angels announced your birth to lowly shepherds, they learned who you were
and proclaimed the Good News.

Sweet Baby Jesus, the heavens declare that you are the one the world has been waiting for.

Sweet Savior, majestic infant, you will save the world from itself.

Unconditional love sent from above,
We celebrate who you are.
